Metaformers took Lexington, Kentucky

On a Transformative Journey - Beyond the Cloud!

There is a point when you are tired of outages; tired of working late; and tired of fighting with your own systems and hardware to make sure employees get paid, that taxes are transmitted to the treasury, and the order for the replacement EMT vehicle is finalized. That's the point when the status quo won't cut it and someone needs to be brave enough to make a change.

Making that leap can be risky, but it is easier with the right partner.

Lexington challenged the status quo and took the bold step forward. They asked Metaformers to take their Financial and Human Capital Systems out of the norm and beyond the cloud.
